WHY HIRE A PROFESSIONAL

“A camera didn’t take a great picture any more than a typewriter wrote a great novel”

- Peter Adams

Experience

As one of the most experienced photographers in the area, you can be assured your baby will be happy and safe. I have over 12 years experience in working with babies and children in my childcare career as a manager. Obviously I adore babies and now being a specialist newborn photographer I have trained with some of the most world renowned photographers from all over the world, including Ana Brandt, Kelly Brown and Gary Hill, along with hours upon hours of research and online training. Newborn photography is my real passion, my aim to have moments in time stood still and preserved forever.

Service

Their becomes a moment during every shoot when I stop being a photographer and you stop being a stranger... We become friends. Sharing this special time with you, taking these timeless images means more to me than just taking a picture. The service I bring is just that, its an experience, and one you will always remember and what makes my clients come back again and again. Along with this service I provide 'Art Gallery' quality products, including stunning Acrylic wall art, Canvas, and Fine Art prints. Their is something for all my clients. From the first point of contact please be assured you and your family will be well looked after, ensuring a great experience.

Safety

As my number one priority in each and every one of my sessions, your baby's safety is very important to me. Before you arrive at my lovely cosy studio, you will receive a questionnaire on booking your session so I can plan and prepare taking into account all your requirements about your little newborn. As your newborn is a little delicate creature, with poor circulation, weak muscle control, and no control over their body temperature, I can assure you all the safety precautions are set in place and you will hear me talk about baby's safety to you and see me regularly check hands and feet in certain poses. In most poses I will either have an assistant help me or you as a parent may help me (Just to hold and support baby) and some images will be composite images.

" Absolutely brilliant,would highly recommend..I had bump to baby sessions, I went in to my bump session feeling nervous and exposed but leonni made me feel so comfortable and the session was such an amazing experience the photos are amazing too so many people have commented so kindly about them, then to the baby session well if I didn't already think leonni was amazing this made me admire her she was amazing with the baby and my two other children who were also included in the photos, I could not believe how calm the session was and how patient leonni is she got so many fabulous photos that we will treasure forever! I cannot believe how much I love the pictures we have had taken today! And we have only seen the "sneak preview". WHAT TO EXPECT

“ Let me love you a little more, before you’re not little anymore ”

What to expect

Before your session

I recommend you book in for your newborn session around your 20 week scan, this ensures availability around your due date. After booking your newborn session you will be sent over a questionnaire, this is to find out as much as I can about you, your new baby and your family. You will also be sent over a link to all of the FAQ about your newborn session and I am always here to answer any additional questions that you may have.

Then once baby arrives you can contact me as soon as you can and we can schedule in your session within the first two weeks of them being born.

At your session

The day has come for your session, your session will be booked in in the morning and can last between 2-4 hours. Get ready for a day of relaxation in a comfy studio, with copious amounts of tea, coffee and little snacks, and watch me take timeless images of your precious newborn. You are free to browse around and take a look at all of my products. Most days I will have an assistant but on the odd occasion you may be asked to support baby in certain poses. Please wear something light and airy as it can get quite warm in the studio. Please have a read of the FAQ page on my website for a full run down of what to expect and what will happen on the day of your session.

After your session

Once your session has finished, you will be invited back to the studio around 10 days for your viewing and ordering appointment. Before you come back to the studio you will be sent over a full product guide helping you to choose which packages and products are best for you, your family and your home. I am always on the other end of the phone to answer any questions you may have.

Please measure up any spaces at home where you would like your products to go. If possible you can take a picture of the wall space and I can make a mock up of your images on your wall.

Once products have been chosen I accept cash/credit-debit card or bank transfer.

Please allow up to 4 weeks turn around time for you to receive your products.

Top Tips & PLANNING

Some extras you may need for your session

Whilst I have pretty much everything you need for your newborn session, props, outfits, accessories and backdrops, there is a couple of things you may need to bring with you. If you are having parent shots you may want to bring along a change of clothes for the actual images themselves, just in case baby decides to have any little accidents on you. These can be just plain clothes, no branding or patterns and similar colours to your partners. If you have other children and they will be in some of the photos, then they can wear plain styled clothes. Please pop me a message if you need any assistance with this.

If you are bringing other children with you then it may help if you can either have them picked up after their photos or have someone who can take them out for a little while, as all our focus needs to be on your little baby. There is a park across the road and plenty of cafe's on the street.
